THE TURF AND ITS MATHEMATICS.

Of all DAILY RACING FORM's publications the American Racing Manual is the most valuable and resultative—if its figures are applied with keen intelligence of observation. Its handicap table puzzles the public. No wonder. All such tables work the same way. The handicapper—who is one and not a "bluff"—bases his conclusions on what he knows and sees. The table was published purely to give the public the information supposed to be available only to a few. There should not be any racing Holy of Holies. The public side of the sport is the side of its sustenance. The same "shade" about intelligence rules in racing as in general business avenues. Why not? If the rule didn't apply broadly, the incentive would be la king. I never believed in the figures of the handicap table. My experience story shows that. But this and that "hi-ky" turflite has used the table at available times and charged the "lamb" what he could get for it—in manuscript. The table puts such folks into legitimate avenues. The strong and valuable features of the Manual, to me and to others, are its speed estimates. The comparative tables and those covering track records cost the work of five months. There have been superficial objections against some of these estimates. Racing bargains in a masculine way are usually wordy. A dozen objections came to me about the Milwaukee mile estimate of 1:40 $\frac{1}{4}$. The average objector did not sign his name. Anonymous letter writers are normal cowards and not worth notice. The Milwaukee mile record was 1:40 $\frac{1}{4}$, by Muskalonge and Havoc. The miles were made this year, too. But who classes Muskalonge and Havoc in the first group? Not a man who deals in racing, through winning ways. I waited a day or two. During that period vindication came. Merry Monarch, just removed in his best days from turf excellence, was the tool. August 20 he won at a Milwaukee mile in 1:40 with 100 pounds up. Merry Monarch's performance was under 100 pounds. At his best the horse was high in the second grade. His mile proved the truth of the Manual's Milwaukee track speed estimate. Track records do not fairly reflect track speed at all distances. Many such distances are irregular, unfashionable and unfortunate. When paraded, the elements may be against them. Then, too, they are so seldom used that bad horses furnish their speed results. Such races cannot furnish lines on the speed of the course and the distance. The Manual's estimate of speed at all distances is reflection and not that of record. It shows what is possible: not what has been done.

Condens & Co., an intelligent commission firm of Covington, Ky., sized up the Manual's worth early and in this way: "The table of comparative speed is worth a dollar a minute to any handicapper, especially at this season of the year when horses are at one track to-day and at another two days later." It was upon this idea that the speed tables and their comparative display were built. The future will show their worth.

I claim that a man with patience, money and judgment has all the advantages of the so-called "gambling" side of racing. The legal definition of "gambling" has been refined by lexicon and law to "chance" or "lottery." There is some color about the gambling of betting—taking the broad array of each day with its thirty or more events. The selling player is a queer creature; yet in its lowest strata and with all his idiosyncrasies he's far more reliable than the turn of the card or dice or the whirl of the wheel. In his higher stages, the thoroughbred is as true as standard prices on commodities. Domino won nine times, made a dead heat and lost not one of the races of his two-year-old career. Maid Marian in four seasons ran 81 races and won 46 of them. Yo Tambien in four seasons performed 72 times and won 43 races. And so it goes. Are not these figures living evidences of regularity and honesty? Where is the chance or lottery about betting on such horses? Most of the powder and shot of intolerance comes from the magazines of quarrelling turf operators. Sometimes these anarchists' own poolrooms, sometimes tracks and at other time both.

Here are some figures giving an idea of how sure and true horses run. DAILY RACING FORM Publishing Co., up to Monday September 7th, has issued 141 papers since March 26th, 1896. It has published its idea of form on 2,825 races run the day of publication during that period. This form has chosen 1,321 winners and named 1,981 winners among the three horses nominated in the daily array. Chance never reached such a percentage as this.

As an instance I will go to last Saturday's parade of selections. Thirty races were run and reported that day and the form of all was published some fourteen hours before the events were decided. Twelve winners were named as winners. In the thirty groups of three the names of twenty-one winners appeared. There is no such average as this about any lottery or game of chance. Here are the winners and their highest and lowest betting price.

Winners	Opening	Closing
Semper Lex.....	6 to 1	13 to 5
The Deuce.....	3 to 5	evens
Alvarado.....	3 to 5	1 to 2
Lorrana.....	8 to 5	2 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1
Pete Kitchen.....	2 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1	4 to 1

Naturally one turns to the financial result of a day's betting on the selections for the thirty races as published in Saturday morning's DAILY RACING FORM. figured on a basis of $3 each way on the first selections of all thirty races—or $10 straight on odds-on favorites, without place odds—the loss would have been $131 and

ROLLER HAS A GOOD DAY.

W. H. Roller had an inning at Ideal Park yesterday, capturing three of the five races with Millie M. Vanessa and Miss Young. Millie M won her race rather handily but it was a tight fit for the others.

Miss Young's victory was the race of the day. It was the all aged handicap, and against her were Ajax, California and Irene Woods. The ring made the Hanover filly an odds-on choice. Ajax seemed to be the form of it and despite the steady increase in his price the public backed him heavily.

Mr. Dwyer had a hard time getting the quartette away. Miss Young went to the front at once, and set a merry clip to the three farlong p le, where Ajax took command and led well into th stretch. Above the eighth pole Irene Woods challenged the leader, and when Dorsey saw Caywood go to the whip he became careless. This cost him the race, for Miss Young, who seemed to be beaten on the turn, came on again under punishment and through Clay's strong finish managed to get up just in time to win by a short nose. It was a close and pretty finish, but a false result.

REQUITAL, B. C. 3, BY EOTHEN—RETRIBUTION.

the profit $216. The net winnings therefore was $55. These selections, too, were merely the result of a hurried glance at the figures as printed in DAILY RACING FORM's charts. In our refined telegraphic selections, sent out Friday night, the average was far higher—some 60 per cent.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Pepper's temper is none too good and his legs are still worse.

Bettors should tab the fact that Benamela's forte is mud running. He is high class in thick going.

Eugene Leigh will join the Eastern brigade at San Francisco next winter with a small and refined stable.

There are some eight American Manuals at $5 and twenty Quarterly Form books at $6 for sale at this office. No more half yearly books can be supplied.

Barney Schreiber is not booking at St. Louis, on account of bad health. He goes to Europe for three months about October 1.

Daily forays are being made on the Louisville pool-rooms. Yet they run on. The Louisville rooms are the most elderly establishments in America.

The First Deal party, McDonald & Co., was banished from St. Louis and went to Newport. Saturday it was told to seek other fields by the Newport officials.

Vanessa's victory was another lucky one for Roller. Lincoln II was the best and through some early jostling was knocked off his stride. He was coming strong at the end and would have won in a stride or two more.

Mandolina defeated a good lot in the nine furlong race.

The Leamington Farm outfit met with their second bit of bad luck in the last race. Their colt Harry Gwynn was played for a "good thing," but whatever chance he had was spoiled shortly after the start when Joeey Taylor got into a pocket and was obliged to pull up.

There was a good crowd out, ten books were in the ring and the afternoon's sport in its entirety was fair to look upon.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Horsemen who want Pacific Coast Jockey Club (Ingleside) stake blanks will be supplied on call by Daily Racing Form Publishing Co.

H. R. Baker, Barney Schreiber's trainer, a high-class horseman, isn't on good terms with himself, because he let Algot and Typhoon II go, after bidding on them. At the same sale, though, he got Aquinas for some $185.

Taral is riding in his best form nowadays. His determination and strength caused Ogden to win the Great Eastern from Typhoon II, and last Thursday he caught Tod Sloan off his guard with Celoso and won on The Manxman.

Winner—B. f. 3, by Fordham—Miss Forester.
Post 2 minutes. Start good. Won with something to spare; second all out; third handily on the end. Anna Mayes was raced to pieces first half. Ethelinda ran a good race from where she got off. She can win among her own. Spendoline and Character were both troubled with the slows. Minnow had speed for a sprinting distance. The first two much outclassed the others.

3554 SECOND RACE—5-8 Mile. 2-year-olds. Allowances.

Winner—B. f. by Belvidere—Conralto.
Post 6 minutes. Start good. Winner was driving hard on the end; second and third doing their best. Lincoln was jostled a good deal on far turn. He is a long striding fellow and a slow beginner. He finished very strong and would have won in another stride. Moscow ran an excellent race. He is a handy maiden. Watch him. C. H. Whelan tired after going a half. So did Tom Smith.

Winner—Ch. f. 4, by El Rio Rey—Otelia.
Post 2 minutes. Start good. Won handily on none too smooth a passage; second and third driving to the limit. Mandolina was perfectly handled. Florence P was still a trifle short. She will be hard to beat her next start. Service tired badly when the pinch came. Crevasse wanted to sulk all the journey. Miss Frances ran a bad race, after getting no support.

Time, 25, 49½, 1:02¼, 1:15¼.

Winner—Ch. f. 4, by Hanover—May Lady.
Post 12 minutes. Start fair. Won in a long, hard drive; second and third were also in sharp contention. Irene Woods was the best and should have won. Dorsey thought he was winning at eighth pole and took a brief nap. It was fatal. Clay's finish on the winner was strong. There was much bumping in the last furlong. Axax suffered most. California was hard to get away from the post.

Scratched—Anna Mayes, 96; Cogmoosey, 90; Lincoln II, 82.

Time, 12¾, 25, 50¼, 1:03¾.

Winner—B. c. by Burlington—Boabdilla.
Post 8 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second and third driving. Omah Wood had a world of speed but could not carry it. Harry Gwynn was cut off on far turn. He would have been much closer up with better racing luck. Admetus ran an honest race. Yours Truly was the best and Scherrer rode him well. Paul Griggs ran a villainous race.
